I went 10 layers of virtual reality deep. 10/10 would VR again.. AN AMAZING GAME! This game is so funny while being kinda a dark psychological horror game where you rub and suck a stick of butter. Yeah I know, SCARY. I was expecting a jump scare half the time.. One of the best vr games I have played.. gib me the s u c. The story is very inspired by Portal. The voice acting is very good. The interactions are fun and interesting.. Insanely well written. Shows off the potential of the VR as a medium for telling compelling stories and makes me super hopeful for what's to come.. I absolutely loved playing this. Wonderful story, amazing visuals and a great soundtrack. Probably one of my favorite VR experiences so far.. This game is brilliant. Wrap your headset on and get ready for an amazing journey. Forget AAA, this is far beyond that.. Honestly this one of the best story driven VR games out on the market right now and i think it deserves much more popularity. It has a lot of detail put into it, the voice acting is pretty darn good and it does a really good job at creating a great atmosphere. The gameplay itself is mostly about exploring this virtual reality, it has plenty of really pretty and interesting scenery, which makes it great for a VR game, though i wish they would let you explore the different "virtual realities" once you finished the game. The game is pretty short (around 2 hours), but overall i think its a must buy for people who like story driven vr games.. This is a must play. This is the best narrative, immersion, and voice acting of any VR game I've played. I beat it in one (2 hour) sitting, but I definitely didn't explore everything. The polish shines through everywhere. Character development is stupendous, control is great, hidden objects are everywhere. (how many opossums did you find?) If I had to describe it, I would say Portal meets SOMA in a bright and colorful world. Everything about this is excellent. I played this on a Lenovo Explorer WMR headset with a GTX 1060 6gb mini and an i5-3470. Steady 90 FPS on high settings with my default SS rate of 100%.
